To the Prince Hall Family, Jurisdiction of Georgia,

Brothers and Sisters, it is with pleasure that I, as Grand Master, invite each of you to the 4th Annual Let Us Make Man (LUMM) Conference being held this year in the city of Savannah. I have been a supporter of this event since the inception and this year Savannah Masonic District #1 promises this will be the best one to date. Though this is not a Masonic function, it is a life saving, life changing, and life altering event. LUMM will be held on April 24th at Savannah State University, with doors opening at 7 am. There is limited seating and once the 800 seats are filled, you will miss out on the Conference of a lifetime. Registration and more information are available at the website www.letusmakeman.net.

The event is free and open to the public. Seven workshops will be offered, which are both practical and filled with priceless content. The workshops include: Law and Black Society, Mentoring Youths, Educating Black Males, Spiritual Growth, Young Entrepreneurs, Restoring the Black Family, and Black Leadership. Each participant will be provided with an information-packet LUMM Train-the-Trainer Workbook©. I am on program representing the Masonic family. Come out and support our own Grand Historian, Bro. Doug Evans as one of LUMM's founders/organizers. LUMM was held at Paine College last year, guest speakers included Danny Glover and television notable Judge Penny Brown Reynolds. This movement was created by Councilman Derrick Boazman of Saint James #4 in Atlanta. Bro. Boazman is also a radio personality of 1380 WAOK daily from 4-7 pm at www.WAOK.com.

Sign up your Knights of Pythagoras, other youth groups, and young Black males from church and community between ages 8 to 20. Let Us Make Man is available for everyone to attend, including women and young ladies. There will be several buses leaving from Atlanta and other places for those who may need transportation. For any further questions contact Grand Historian, Doug Evans (404) 587-7539 or email at douglas.evans3@yahoo.com. Look to see you at Savannah State on April 24th!

Fraternally,

Ramsey Davis, Jr., MW Grand Master
